Point Of View

When someone takes a long time, he is slow.
When I take a long time, I am thorough. When another does not do it, he is lazy. When I do not do it, I am too busy. When the other fellow overlooks a rule of etiquette, he is rude. When I bend a few rules, I am original.

Usually we think our way is best. Many of us have become professional critics while expertly guarding our own shortcomings. It is a strong temptation to pick at ,the flaws in others. When we give in to this temptation we miss the joy of Jesus Christ in loving our neighbor as ourselves.

Happy Mother's Day!

Motivator – Mom always had a way of getting me going and making me do right. Many times it was with the help of a belt, but the Lord disciplines those whom He loves (Proverbs 3:11-12; Hebrews 12:5-6), and so does a good mother.

Observant – Mom always seemed to know what was going on; she was quick to correct, but she was also quick to praise.

Therapist – Whenever I had a problem, I could always tell Mom about it. She would listen and give council, though she never got paid for it.

Healer – I can still remember getting hurt, and my first response was that I wanted Mom. I don't know why that is, but I always wanted her to know.
Somehow she made me feel better; somehow she made me better.

Educator – Though mom did not teach in schools or have degrees in education, I learned lessons from her that I never could learn in school.
She raised me from my youth to fear God, to be respectful and to take care of my family. I am still continuing my education as I learn to be a parent; I will learn how to teach my child (Proverbs 22:6).

Real – Mom told me how it was, and she still does. She tells me what I need to hear, not necessarily what I want to hear. She does not try to deceive with flattering words, but rather she speaks the truth in love (Ephesians 4:15)

Only Wanted To Help!

While in the midst of a rather lengthy sermon the preacher of a fashionable congregation was terrified to see a small boy shooting the spit-balls at certain members.

The boy noticing him hesitate shouted: "You go ahead with your preaching, Mister; I'll keep them awake!"
